It's a new day
Time again to put the tie around your neck
Tie the slipknot, slip into your body bag
Get ready for your daily identity suicide
Sit down, enjoy the genocide

Be the perfect slave, be a decent artifact
Be what the fuck you wanna be
Can't you see you're an aseptic, pathetic conception
The immaculate deception

Your time is wasting away
Still you think it's so precious
I reject your conditioned logic
That's why you want me to vanish
How ironic from a selfish

Ghost
I can see through you
The unspoken hatred, the bitterness
I reject them all
But I reflect your own sickness
Unleash it before you reach the point
Of no return

It's a new day, same shit
For you workaholic Janus
You smiling hypocrite
Never disagree, never justify
Never defy authority, hide in the majority

Your time is wasting away
Still you think it's so precious
I reject your conditioned logic
That's why you want me to vanish
How ironic from a selfish

Ghost
I can see through you
The unspoken hatred, the bitterness
I reject them all

But I reflect your own sickness
Unleash it; you reach the point
Of no return

I, I am, the collateral damage of mass production
I, I am, the embodiment of your own frustrations
Just try to push me but better push me hard
'Cause I'll never bend, never break
Just face and swallow the despise of the rejects you create

You're an antinomy, the anonymous persecuted
With a lack of existence you'll never fill up with your hatred
For me

Ghost
I can see through you
The unspoken hatred, the bitterness
Buried you alive
It's too late for your sickness to arise
You've passed the point
