Smashed to concrete, only slivers left of my soul
Becoming suicidal, I was about to lose control
Force-fed to think that I am nothing but dirt
Conditioned to question my own life's worth

Though today
Is the day I let it all out
Today
Is the day I end all these doubts
I'll let it all out
I'll end all these doubts
As I

Purify my thoughts

Step back now; go away, for everything is said
Let me set this record straight, your lame excuses come too
Don't need your regrets, don't wanna hear your pleas
Leave me alone to live my life in peace

Though today
Is the day I let it all out
Today
Is the day I end all these doubts
As I

Purify my thoughts

Now you see what I've become Without you I grew strong
You can't break me, though a part of me has died
Innocence taken, hatred awakened
Don't expect to be forgiven
No more crying, no more doubting
My love for you has withered away
You can't break me
