I can't sleep tonight
He's still laughing in my ear
Truth hurts less when truth's not told
But his eyes were crying aloud
Even if these words were not spoken

Everytime I fall you're here, to deepen that knife
So empty, so careless, so useless, so condescending, so blind
But I'm still alive

So...

I chose to live chasing, you'll never brake this dream
I chose to live chasing, you'll never brake this dream

I'm suffocated by the haughtiness and blindness
I can't tolerate still that feeling
No explanation will keep you safe from my deepest hate
