

7 Years

"Disowning Jason"

Visit "Disowning Jason" on MotoLyrics.com

I have nothing left to say to you,
My words, my sword I'll run you through Lying on the floor is where you were ment to be These words came from a morbid man who had a son who had a plan
To live his own life and to do as he pleased
Only time will tell how he'll do in life and I wish him well
He said good-bye on that stormy night and the tears
fall like rain
Outside
Well, fine, just walk away, I didn't want you anyway Things are better off now that you're gone and out of my life
Why father do you speak to me this way (wo wo wo)
Well, son, let's just think about it You're not the man I wanted you to be
Only time will tell how he'll do in life and I wish him well
He said good-bye on that stormy night and the tears
fall like rain
He is looking for the truth and answer
Why his life caused so much pain
He is looking for the truth and answer
He found a father that loves him the same Peaceful evening, morning has come
Bring me water, darkness turns to dawn
Don't say those words (Don't say those words to me)
They will not be heard
Only time will tell how he'll do in life and I wish him well
He said good-bye on that stormy night and the tears
fall like rain
Outside, outside.

Visit 7 Years page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.