In one months time I went from crawl to climb,
Then I fell on my face before You.
I feel the blunt force as the pain runs it's course
My home set in stone that's all that i knew.
Holding on to what I know is true
The world is crashing all around me
Seems like there is nothing I can do
The world is crashing all around me
Reality is just what I cannot see
So knock some sense into me.
Show me that there is more to life
Like dying once and living twice for You
For You!
Make me, Destroy me and I will be like You

Make me, Destroy me and I will be like You Rip my heart from my chest if that's what you've got to do
Make me, Destroy me and i will be like You
Holding on to what I know is true
The world is crashing all around me
Seems like there is nothing I can do
The world is crashing all around me
Reality is just what I cannot see
So knock some sense into me.
Show me that there is more to life
Like dying once and living twice for You
For You!
