I stare into space with an open door as I watch you walk away
From my home thinking of you thinking of me thinking
Of what we used to be well fine just go
Its alright with me I don't need you or anyone
Cause who am I to judge you for walking
Away from me

I'll tell you im fine tell you im alright
Tell you that thers nothing wrong at all

I stare in the sky while im all alone
And i wach you walk right out of my life thinking of you
Thinking of me thinking of all that we've been through Time has passed me by I don't need you or anyone
Cause who am I to judge you for walking away from me

I'll tell you im fine tell you im alright
Tell you that thers nothing wrong at all
