Oh Yeah

Lived all my days trying to embrace

Life with my heart by all the beauty

I feel and create it spins and moves

Flows at my pace telling its story

From the tear running down my face

Chrous:

Visions of a sunset just appear when

I close my eyes

Takes my closer to heaven when the

Flute starts to fly

and the violin cries

Confusion leaves while peace

Orchestrates runs through my

Veins and in other seekers it

Penetrates my reason why

The big city air smells so

Sweet takes me through journeys

In time from my youth to as

Far as I can see

Visions of a sunset just appear when

I close my eyes
Takes my closer to heaven when the
Flute starts to fly
And the violin cries
It's all I need in my life
It's all I need and no one
Can take your place by my side
You're all inside of me
Visions of a sunset just appear when
I close my eyes
Takes my closer to heaven when the
Flute starts to fly
And the violin cries
We'll free from all sorrow
Like the wind blows from the sky
Takes me closer to Heaven when the
Flute starts to fly
And the violin cries
