I still remember how it started at the barracks in the harbor
I was oh so young back then When the music stole my soul, I was hanging with you all Yeah I was hooked from the start

Well in the end it's where we meet, at the same houses, the same streets I still believe in happy songs. When it's all chaos I sing along

Now there's time for you and me. We're alive, and we're born free I'd give my everything to, be a part of this
As time slowly changes, bridges are burned I'd give my everything to

Well in the end it's where we meet
