VERSE

Mirages in the desert won't you come to me so I may see my beauty that's so dear. All through the blue night while I rest in solitude you're the brightest star that my eyes don't see that my eyes can't see.

VERSE

The wind has blown and the twilight shown, the thought of you appears over the flowers of the field. Your image has placed the stars in my worlds' celestial gaze. Nothing more surreal than to be with you in this our in this our silent hour.

CHORUS

You float through my mind like a butterfly, through the autumn wind that chills the morning, the morning sky your face shines like a beam so real when I hold your life when I, when I close my eyes tonight in dreams.

VERSE

Beneath the swirling planets is where we will meet. The clouds will part and then a mystery revealed. You come into my dreams like an angel in disguise. Hold my hand and dance with me through the night while I look at your star filled eyes.

OUTRO

The dawn it now slowly comes now to be beyond the sea now through the trees like a mystic fire pervading through my sweet, sweet, sweet dreams as the sun smiles the stars they close, they close their eyes, they close their eyes and I open mine.
