so here i am at last i've always wanted that that i could have a minute of your time to to make some other laught, enjoying what we have to be positive cause your glass is half full chorus:

you must appreciate to cause it is not late to have to have is not taken for granted agree and you just will chant it...HAVE so be happy with less and with it make the best of what you have because there are no limits don't put unneeded stress on all of your life's mess so keep your chin up and be optimistic
