to all the ones who like what i knew, yearned summer, because it was cool
the sky so bright, the days so long, a summer breeze is worth a ton rent-a-cop fights, that came our way, a plastic badge, pushed in our face if you can say, remember can you street, ramp, pools, who gives a fuck you chorus:

GO! go and then you ride away
why don't you go and ride now
don't stay inside now

GO! go and then you ride away

do you remember, times cause i do summer days, that were a clear blue took our boards, jumped in our shit that barely ran, and looked all hit flew it around, and scored some sessions saw what was down, and some spot checkin'

if you can say, remember can you push, push, push, who gives a fuck you

chorus
