Just lie back and think a while
???Bout the changes in your life
So how the fuck can you stand there and tell me
How you'll be ten years from now

The things that were important then
They just don't matter now
The dreams you held so tightly
Now you just don't care about
Don't live the way you used to
???Cause your life's been rearranged
Don't act the way you used to
???Cause your mind's just not the same

Constant change

Ya thought you were so positive
But you're second-guessing now
You never can tell just the way it's gonna be
Just what fate the future holds

The things that were important then
They just don't matter now
The dreams you held so tightly
Now you just don't care about
Don't live the way you used to
???Cause your life's been rearranged
Don't act the way you used to

Constant change
