You and me, whenever we go wrong
Wake up early and you'll live to regret (Nothing is clear)
And you'll tell it to the telephone (tell the truth)
Look whenever you're talking all alone (Whenever you see fit)
And everything you ever said
Wake up early and you'll live to regret it
(Spend some time, whenever you go wrong)
Wake up early and you'll live to regret it
And you'll wake up early and you'll live to regret (tell the truth)
And you'll wake up early and you'll live to regret (whenever you see fit)
Well, talking on the telephone
Looking at yourself like you're all alone (Everything's wrong)
And everything you ever
Wake up early and you'll live to regret it (Everything's wrong)
Talking on the telephone
Talking like a talking bell
You'll go to bed early and you'll talk to your pillow
You'll go to bed early and you'll talk to your pillow
You'll go to bed early and you'll talk to your pillow
You'll go to bed early and you'll talk to your pillow...
(You and me, whenever we see fit)
Talking on the telephone (Nothing is clear)
Looking at ourselves like we're all alone
And, everything you ever said
Wake up early and you'll live to regret
Wake up early and you'll live to regret (You and me)
Talking on the telephone
Looking like we're all alike, we're all alone (whenever you see fit)
And, everything you ever said
And you'll wake up early and you'll live to regret (Everything's clear)
And you'll wake up early and you'll live to regret (Tell the truth)
And you'll wake up early and you'll live to regret (Every once in a while)

And you'll wake up early and you'll live to regret
And you'll wake up early and you'll live to regret (.. ever said)
And you'll wake up early again
Talking on the phone like your own best friend
And, everything you ever said
Every thought I ever meant I'll ever do
Talking on the telephone
Looking at ourselves like we're all alone
Yeah, we're talkin' on the phone again
Acting like we are our own best friend
And, everything you ever said
Every thought I ever meant I ever did
You'll wake up early and you'll live to regret
Well, you'll wake up early and you'll live to regret yeah...
(You and me, whenever you see fit)
Talkin' on the telephone again
Lookin' at yourself like your own best friend
And, everything you ever... did (Tell the truth)
Wake up early and you'll live to regret (Whenever you go wrong)
Wake up early and you'll live to regret
And all for a strong again, and all... (For a strong)
Now and then, whenever you see fit
Nothing is clear
Tell the truth
Whenever you go wrong
Everything's fine
