Cold when it's hot
Hot when its cold
And there's no way you can feel anymore

Drunk when you fight
Fight when you're drunk
And these red eyes cannot cry anymore

Just look what you've done
Just look what you've done

Run through a red
Stuck on a green
And you're no longer hers anymore

Like a moth to a light
She drew you in
Now you can't let it go, let it go
You can't let it go

But you know she would walk to the beat of your drum
If you knew just how much you'd managed to do wrong
Don't you want to be all
Don't you want to be all she ever thinks about

A little uptight
An ocean of grey when all you want's
Black and white, black and white
Like a moth to a light
She drew you in
Now you can't let it go, let it go
You can't let it go

But you know she would walk to the beat of your drum
If you knew just how much you'd managed to do wrong
Don't you want to be all
Don't you want to be all she ever thinks about

In a dream you could right
Shine a light down on here
Just mean it tonight
Just mean it tonight

But you know she would walk to the beat of your drum
But you know she would walk to the beat of your drum
If you knew just how much you'd managed to do wrong
Don't you want to be all
Don't you want to be all
Don't you want to be all she ever dreams about
