Vers. 1

I was driving home on Friday when the motion caught my ear
In a field the crowd gathering I could hear them yell and cheer Tell me why are you excited? I asked a certain man he said there ain't no better reason---I'm a football fan

Vers. 2

So I drove a little farther I saw another crowd, they were dancing they were swaying. I heard music playing loud, I asked again why so excited, I just don't understand, someone said man you're not with it were just rock music fans

Vers. 3

So I went to church that sunday I heard the preacher say Jesus gave his life to save us and he's coming back again someday so I started getting happy. How I shouted how I cried, someone said don't get excited this was my reply

Chors. Repeat 3X

I'm a Jesus fan

I'm a Jesus fan

and when I think about his mercy

I just have to lift my hands so if you hear me shouting please try to understand I can't help but get excited

I'm a Jesus fan
