Write a letter, write another letter

Write a letter, write another letter

I'm sealing up this letter

I just finished signing your name

My friends would all be surprised

If they knew I was playing this game

I'll pretend it's a a special delivery

And just to give me a hint

I'll use your favourite color

Smear it with your favourite scent

I know you think that I'm crazy

But I can't loose what have I left

So I've decided to write this letter

And send it to myself

So to make my story short

In the mail box I will kiss

This letter that I wrote

And it's stamped with your lovely face

When I'm alone

And I need someone to talk to

I talk to your picture

Get me a pencil and paper
And write all the things
Say all the things I've heard you say before
But with a little "extra, extra read all about it"
Sugar and spice
I guess it makes me feel kind of nice
I write a letter to myself
Oh, write another letter to myself
I write another letter to myself
Oh, write another letter to myself
When is a home when you're all alone
It seems so full
It seems so full
And yet so empty
Oh, I get my coat
Leave you a note and go to the places
Were we used to be
I pretend you are there
Order dinner for two
Your presence is all in the air
( repeat)
I write a letter to myself, oh, write another letter to myself
