Getting colder
Heavy air in my room
The circulator sings a busy sound
Checkered shirt that I left to dry inside
Is swinging under weatherglass now

Leaving this place within a few hours
Will the heat haze mirror all my life ?

Countless journals set on fire light up the night
Sparks that fly up will burn up my lung
Countless journals set on fire light up the night
Sparks that fly up will burn up my lung

Is there hope here ? Forestland full of greed
I only used to wish for one thing
Smoldering love contained in a bottle
Will the heat haze mirror all my life ?

(Love will always strike a heart beat)
(Love will always start a brighter day)

Can we take ?
Can we make
A different future ?
Can we see ?
Can we please ?
Don't be so immature
Share our night so that you feel alright

Ashes fall
Raining down
Blocking what I see
But I'm still holding you
Let us go far away
Share our night and make you feel all right
Look beyond

I will still , believe you
No matter , what happens
Leaving this place within a few hours

Will the heat haze mirror all my life ?

Countless journals set on fire light up the night
Sparks that fly up will burn up my lung
Countless journals set on fire light up the night
Sparks that fly up will burn up my lung

Can we take ?
Can we make
A different future ?
Can we see ?
Can we please ?
Don't be so immature
Share our night so that you feel alright

Ashes fall
Raining down
Blocking what I see
But I'm still holding you
Let us go far away
Share our night and make you feel alright
Anytime

I remember , how it , started
My passion , never fades away
