"Breathe"

You can't deny yourself
The life you dream to have
He can't want what you need
But you just settle for that
He'll never give you more
But you can smile the same
I can't hold onto this
He'll never try to change
I'm offering
Everything
You can't hold out is seems
Goodbye to all your dreams
And when I think of you
I'll be sure to feel
The things you've given me
The things that should be real
Just stay and play a role
Or take the chance to change
Life is not over yet
And you can rearrange
Don't be influence
By what you think they need
They'll never understand
Or give you room to breathe
