"Socially Impaired"

Tell me anything and I won't care
You tell me that I'm socially impaired
It doesn't matter what you say
Your words don't mean a thing to me today
But what can you expect from me
I'm everything that I want to be Looking down it's starting to seem
One persons answered prayer
Is another persons broken dream
What is said and done
Has changed it all
In every way
I'm standing just where I was
Before you left me yesterday
Left here all alone and I don't care
I know you're leaving and it seems unfair
Everything I've tried to make it right
Hasn't worked 'cause I am alone tonight
