My heart races as I walk to your door Nothing but regret and these things aren't easy to ignore
I'm tired of wishing my days away
My feelings for you have never changed
And I'm tired of wasting my time
Pondering on broken dreams of you
The things I've rehearsed so long
My unrehearsed feelings of you
How can I convince myself it will be okay in the end
I've tried but my feelings just wont bend
I can't stop myself from thinking about you Captured still frames of your smile and the things you do
