where will we be 5 years down the road?
I just don't know
As our lives fade apart,
I am sinking low
and sitting in my room I wait for your call but it doesn't come at all, doesn't come at all still I wonder..... yes I wonder..... what happened to you and me and it seems that I never see your face anymore you say you life is full with everything everything and more you've got a part time job you've got your friendships too I guess that I'm not good enough good enough for you
