"Insignificant Other"

She's been in my head
Ever since we met
And I'm already thinking of
Words like commitment
But she won't want to subscribe
To my ideas of how it should be
Every time I call her she hangs up on me
I know that I'm pathetic
When she calls me a loser
I'll do anything I don't want
To lose her

'Cause I don't want to be alone
I go out just to walk by her home
And then all alone
And stuck in my head
I think I have the wrong idea
From something she never said
Her friends all tell me that I'll Never be her type
I saw her with another guy out last Friday night
