The shadow of a storm cloud
Is coverin' our path
The sidewalk's in a hurry
But we're too wrapped up for that
Walking real close and holdin' my hand
There's a question in your eyes
You're pullin' me in when the drops start fallin'
From a charcoal sky

Baby don't the rain taste like sugar on your lips
When I'm kissin' you
The breeze feels like a thousand fingertips
They know just what to do
And maybe it's magic that's keepin' us content
And we should know better than this
Baby don't the rain taste like sugar on your lips

Sleepin' into a surrender
That reason can't define
The air smells sweet as daydreams
I dreamed a hundred times
Don't wanna mess one thing wish I could
Stop time and memorize the scene
But the sky's still fallin'
And the stars are collidin'
When you're touchin' me

Baby don't the rain taste like sugar on your lips
When I'm kissin' you
The breeze feels like a thousand fingertips
They know just what to do
And maybe it's magic that's keepin' us content
And we should know better than this
Baby don't the rain taste like sugar on your lips

Baby don't the rain taste like sugar on your lips
When I'm kissin' you
The breeze feels like a thousand fingertips
They know just what to do
And maybe it's magic that's keepin' us content
And we should know better than this

Baby don't the rain taste like sugar on your lips

Baby don't the rain taste like sugar ... sugar
