You've changed
Or have I
Sometimes it gets so hard to tell
If it takes more than I have left to give you from myself

In time I've already seen how you do these things so well
So well

You pull me out when you're ready
You pull me out to save yourself
Please withdraw release my innocence back
My innocence

You've changed
Or have I
Sometimes it gets so hard to tell

If it takes more than I have left
to give you from myself
In time I've already seen how
you do these things so well
So well

You call me back when you're ready
To treat me like a human being Abuse my name you should have let it go
This time

If you're ready to leave me here and take this on yourself
I can't be what you need
And you don't need anything from me

So sad

So pull me out when you're ready
To treat me like a human being
Bring me back my strength
My innocence

My will

Pull me out when you're ready
To treat me like somebody else Abuse my name you hesitate or make excuses

If you're ready to leave me here
to take this on yourself
I can't be what you need
And you don't need anything from me
