To watch the leaves grow on the trees with you is out of question
I walk into this summer all alone the usual session
You feel your instinct then you act but was it your intention
To leave me down and broken now you've ended our ascension
Yeah

I still can feel the beach sand in my shoes remember when
We talked along the ocean's song 'til blue from black fade in?
But that was then I learned to live without you far within'
I ask you why you're back to try to let me lose again?
You brought me here you wet my taste
You disappear without a trace
It wasn't me who made the call

Chorus
'Cause now I wanna' be
Where you sleep
Where you laugh
Where you breathe
And I hate to say
Still I sway
Brown your eyes
Gone away

Should I feel some closure I deserve if that atleast
And would you be so kind to show reasons for your release?
You woke me up from a distant past I left behind complete
The message that you sent that night now falls to bittersweet
Was it me, my honesty?
You fail to show I'll never know
It wasn't me who made the call

Chorus

Was it me, my honesty?
You failed to show I never know
You brought me here you wet my taste
You disappear without a trace
Did ya think I'd ever lead you wrong?
Just know I'll save all of our moments that we are Carry on

Still I wanna' be
Where you sleep
Where you laugh
Where you breathe
And I hate to say
Still I sway
Brown your eyes
Gone away

Now I wanna' be (Someday you'll wish you never)
Where you sleep
(Someday you'll wish you never)
Where you laugh
(Someday you'll wish you never)
Where you breathe
(Someday you'll wish you never)
(And I hate to say)
(Someday you'll wish you never)
Still I sway
(Someday you'll wish you never)
Brown your eyes
(Someday you'll wish you never)
(Gone away)
(Someday you'll wish you never)

You took it all away
You took it all away
