Missed the meeting, missed the meeting
Where my friends discussed why
I'm not around, I'm not around
You say I don't know who my real friends are All I know is my real friends aren't Talking behind my back, talking behind my back

Assuming things before they even ask me
Why I'm not behaving like I should
In their mind's eye, but they don't even know me
And I don't think they ever could

Missed the meeting, missed the meeting
Where my friends discussed why
I'm not around, I'm not around
If it's really important for you to say
Then you can say it to my face
Stop hiding out, yeah, stop hiding out

Assuming things before they even ask me
Why I'm not behaving like I should
In their mind's eye, but they don't even know me
And I don't think they ever could

Maybe you fear what you don't know
And it hurts too much, just to let it go So instead you make excuses and they grow into demands
I would try to make it up to you but I don't think I can

'Cuz you're gonna make me pay for what I've done to you
Yeah, you're gonna make me pay for what I've put you through
And I don't want to hear you say what you need from me
When all things I've done don't pave the way

Missed the meeting, missed the meeting
Where my friends discussed why
I'm not around, I'm not around
If it's really important for you to say

Then you can say it to my face
Stop hiding out, yeah, stop hiding out

Assuming things before they even ask me
Why I'm not behaving like I should
In their mind's eye, but they don't even know me
And I don't think they ever could

Assuming things before they even ask me
Why I'm not behaving like I should
In their mind's eye, but they don't even know me
And I don't think they ever could
