"Too Late Or Too Dead"

I am so tired now of fighting against all myself besides, the rest of you just listen well just imagine when the cities they are gone or you're just gone from mine I'm not drunk enough to tell you the truth just yet but you listen when i say last nights and last times they are not what they once were there was a time I had so much to say but that time's gone and all that's left is one thing looks like they are starting to catch up with you and I'll be damned if you take me down with you
