Women be wise, keep your mouth shut

Don't advertise your man

Don't sit around gossiping

Explaining what he really can do

Some women now days

Lord they ain't no good

They will laugh in your face

They'll try to steal your man from you

Women be wise, keep your mouth shut

Don't advertise your man

Your best girlfriend

Oh she might be a highbrow

Changes clothes three time a day

But what do you think she's doing now

While you're so far away?

You know she's lovin your man

In your own damn bed...

You better call for the doctor

Try to investigate your head

Women be wise, keep your mouth shut

Don't advertise your man

Women be wise, keep your mouth shut
Don't advertise your man
Now don't sit around girls
Telling all your secrets
Telling all those good things he really can do
Cause if you talk about your baby
Yeah you tell me he's so fine
Honey I might just sneak up
And try to make him mine
Women be wise, keep your mouth shut
Don't advertise your man --
Don't be no fool!
Don't advertise your man
Baby don't do it
