Please don't you dare leave my side I need you and I love you, those words should be enough to make you stay, your wrinkled smile shines like stars through the fog, please stay strong like you always have, promise me you'll live forever, your invincible, invincible...

... I'm so afraid of life without your care, what would if feel like not to have you standing there? memories might mend your broken life but can never heal a broken heart, you will live forever in our hearts...

... this wont be the last time I touch your aging hands, let me crawl into your casket and hold you for eternity, I wont forget all you've told me, about life and love and the Lord above, I would always pretend like I wasn't listening but you need to know I cherished every word you've ever said...

... please don't leave my side, your wrinkled smile shines like stars through the fog, please stay strong like you always have, promise me you'll live forever, your invincible, invincible...

... let me hold you until the sun sets, I know our time may be short so I'll say this to you now, I always envied the way you'd carry yourself, so strong, a veteran, heres the medal of honor you deserve...

... you will live forever... your invincible
