I can't forget you, I can't forget you Tonight we'll dance upon the memories
Flirting with disaster, get my heart beating faster There's something missing everytime I take a breath, there's one thing missing everytime I fall asleep There's an unexplainable hole in my chest from that night when I found you at your best...
... such a clever conduction of a constant mistake, I'll hold onto you until I feel my mind start to break, I can't forget you, I can't forget you...
... all the memories locked tight inside a cheap paper bag, when I wake up in the morning this day will go on, like a cleverly conducted constant mistake, I won't be letting go unless my mind starts to break...
... and now my cerebrum will shatter with my memory lapse, spilling such an awful secretion into my skull, I tried to hold on while my mind was wiped clean, now all I have left are my intangible dreams...
... I'll meet you in memory
(I can't forget you)
I can't remember your name
