You've stood strongly through the storms
Sleet and rain,
A star was born
Now the days seem shorter
And you can barely catch your breath
It's such a painful moment for us all
Please hold on to something
I won't let you fade away
I know that hard times might be coming
But I won't let you fade away
Just hold on to something
Just take my hand
And say that you're invincible
Cuz in this life you've taught me
Things aren't what they seem
So when we get the bad news
I can always dream
That the time we spent had meaning
When it meant so
And I can't live without you

And I can't breathe without you

Please, don't leave me here
I'm begging
Time seems so distant now that
I'm lost in a memory of who you used to be
Cuz in this life you've taught me
Things aren't what they seem
So when we get the bad news
I can always dream
That the time we spent had meaning
When it meant so much to me
The nights are growing longer
When your time is growing shorter
And I can't breathe without you
I'm laying here when I should be there for you
And I cannot breathe without you
I cannot be without you
Please don't leave, leave me this way
When I can't breathe without you
Be without you
