I can feel you crawling on my skin
All the hate inside still haunting me within You promised that you'd wait for me but in the end you never woke me up
Someone help me please

Everyday it always feels the same..I'm holding you to blame
Round and round again, creating circles in my brain
Falling from the strain, I heard you call my name
Feels like i am running to my grave

I call you're name to say
You're memory is haunting me again

I can feel you underneath my skin
Until the hate inside is cutting me within You promised that you'd stay with me but in the end you always fucked me up
Someone help me please

Everyday it always feels the same..I'm holding you to
blame
Round and round again, creating circles in my brain
Falling from the strain, I heard you call my name
Feels like i am running to my grave

I call you're name to say
