"One Minute Violence"

In a back street of town I call my home
God, I've never felt so jaded It's like my heads in a cannon ball
I'm ready to explode again
I wanna feel alive..electrified I'm feeling so familiar to this gameâ€¦what a crying shame

Come with me, I will show you a place that I would rather be Rescue me, I will show you a place that I would rather be
One minute violence

Tick tock, non stop, going on too long
And i'm almost feeling crazy I'm like a boy with a loaded gunâ€¦I'm ready to fire at will 'bang..bang..bang'
I'm not alive, always petrified
I feel that it is always me to blameâ€¦what a crying
shame

Come with me, I will show you a place that I would rather be
Rescue me, I will show you a place that I would rather
One minute violence

I try to find the hate inside
But in my mind it always seems to hide
