

As Hope Dies "Deceived"

Visit "Deceived" on MotoLyrics.com

With A hope for purity you offer up your hands and bow your head to your divine one these actions done in vain for your faith is built on nothing but words that hold no weight written by men deceived just like you willing to sacrifice their lives and live a life according to these false writings I ask of you to turn against this and to declare against his following to renounce his throne with all your being for we will set fire to his name I ask this of you not for myself but in hoe that you may understand that religions do nothing but kill and deceive the innocent bow to nothing and find guidance from within for we will set fire to his name
