I'm walking on the rainbow
I'm looking for my steps
I know that four cute angels
are looking for my death
And I am so excited
my eyes are getting fire
my head is screamy crying becouse my heart is dying

Every single word is important for me and you
And every moment that we have I want to spend with you

I'm walking on the rainbow
I'm looking for my steps
I know that four cute angels
are looking for my death
And I am so excited
my eyes are getting fire
my head is screamy crying becouse my heart is dying

Every single word is important for me and you
you

Every single word is important for me and you

upon the stars I'm walking by Upom the true upon the lie and For tonight I ask for sure for what you have to be my Lord, for what you have to be my lord...

Every single word is important for me and you
you

Every single word is important for me and you
you

you are my tresure

you are my tresure
