Your way, Your way, show me the way, fix these eyes
so I can see clearer (Lights will guide me to the place where I can find peace again)
Your way, Your way, show me the way, fix these eyes
so I can see clearer

Take me to the place where lights consume me
Frozen on a path that's called destruction,
Makes my senses tingle, but it's taken so lightly
Face the world at it's darkest
Don't fall upon unfaithfulness
But your faith will see it straight
See past what you have done
No one needs attention after wounds have healed

I guess that this is goodbye
I swear this is goodbye

I am respected outside of this room
The chance is as thin as the air that I breathe
Is this my last chance, is this my only chance?

But now, LEAVE ME ALONE
I need to catch my breathe
I will only DISAPPEAR, if you will only close your eyes

If we will stay, then we will know what our part is, what our part is (5x)
(My prize is You)

But I know that You won't forget me

Your ears will bleed, with my disease (2x)

Your eyes will bleed
