There's fear in every hero
The capes aren't that long
The monsters seem so big
The hero not so strong

The hero flies in circles
Doubting his next move
Avoiding all the fire
The wind and the hail too

So I pick up my blades
Try not to collapse
Struggle over my cape
All the demonic traps
I'm trying to hide
The fear in my eyes
All I want, you on my back and fly away

Grieving is forbidden
The backbone always straight
Fistfights are so common
Always carry the weight

So I pick up my blades
Try not to collapse
Struggle over my cape
All the demonic traps
I'm trying to hide
The fear in my eyes
All I want, you on my back and fly away
All I want, you on my back and fly away
All I want, you on my back and fly away
All I want, you on my back and fly away
