

A Covenant Of Thorns "Transparent"

An angel's smile
A devil's soul
I hear your words
But they always sound so hollow

I slip on tears
From things you've said
I block them out
But they're always in my head

I see your face
And I hear your voice
It rings out
But I'm always standing here alone

And I would give anything
To be adored in your eyes

I see right through
Your empty lies
The helplessness
We all hide inside

And I would give anything
To be adored in your eyes
I would give anything to be adored in God's eyes
