So here we go again, different town in the same old skin. Counting Backwards now until the flame burns out but i don't know why you left me all alone on my own with the stars and scars trying just to let go straight from the get-go

Is this turning you on

Don't Go! (its better if i) Don't know! before your running out of site i aint givin you up without a fight!

Don't ever count on me i put the lie in rely in rely on me.
Remember when we used to talk under the tree until it got dark, fireflies light up the sky, don't let go of me tonight

Is this turning you on

running out of site i aint givin you up without a fight!
