Standing still i'm gonna stand still, stiller than the stones
you know i will, oh you can test my will, it won't go breaking with my bones take a picture, take a lasting look of the girl you once adored hide it somewhere in your secret book, think of me no more

following my wish into the well, down into your deepest dark i fell
drowning with your kisses in the well, i look to you for saving but you're saving someone else.

go on home, won't you go home, go where you belong left alone i'm better left alone, the one you didn't want.
breaking with my bones

drowning with your kisses in the well,

no one knows. no one knows.

following my wish into the well, down into your deepest
drowning with your kisses in the well,
i look to you for saving but you're saving someone else
