help me, these kids have escaped the life i condemned them to live i am the law of the youth i'm armed to control not protect childhood's spent in school to teach them the ways of the world
then send them to work and to war cause this system's what they reject i feed them my morals to live to live for the state and the organized church anyone who thinks for them self is different and doesn't belong these kids are rebellious and now they need to be stopped right away they have no respect for the and their will to live is too strong
fuck you you bastards
they don't want a revolution but a change in power's the only solution take your laws away fuck the world and fuck my peers i won't forget the past 18 years and i won't regret the rest from this order was established for us, decisions made before we were born that's how it is and how it will be we live in conditions we hate the next generation is here. we don't have to live by their rules

respect and compassion are void, but for us it's not too late
the way it is, is the way it was and the way it will stay just because so many of us want to accept it without a fight fight back for your right to live any way you want to be fuck those who refuse to accept your individuality fuck those who control our future, mentally beating us down let's show all those fucking stiffs, that we're in deep but we won't drown

take your future back
