Colors of distinct moments are like a rainbow in the sky
different pictures of the world changing moods from dark to bright.

You and me in a moment
So many possibilities
Your red sunset warms my earth
Let my wind caress your trees.

It seems quite hard
To match those colours we possess So hard to think of what to use and what's the best.
The fear of empty papers makes the rainbow fade away.
We can put our thoughts together paint different pictures every day.

Colors of distinct moments are like a rainbow passing by
different pictures of the world
turn you laugh or make you sigh!

Just gaze at all these moments - so many possibilities - let blossoms shower in the rain - or be dancing in the breeze.

With all our love and creativity
Green yellow red and blue We're in a gallery that never ends
The artist is me and you.

Place our picture in a frame
And sign it with your name
Just for me!
