I walk the line, look straight ahead
A second chance, one slip and it's gone

Though the bird has flown
The sands of time stand still
Scars that never heal
Wounds you always feel

Keep on walking that dusty road
Blinded by the flame
Keep on walking that dusty road
Never giving in

A single light, you hold your breath
Your heart beats fast, a skin that burns

Maybe the tide has turned
The goal you know is near
And wish of a thousand nights
Voices you always hear

So keep on walking that dusty road

Keep on walking that dusty road
Blinded by the flame
Keep on walking that dusty road
Never giving in

Keep on walking that dusty road
Blinded by the flame
Keep on walking that dusty road
Never giving in
