(DownesPayne)

The battlefield, the smoke has cleared

Silence in sight, the blood lies deep

Look from the hills, the valley calls

Six hundred fall, a lost to all

Someday, somewhere, ever calling

One time, one life, ever falling

[Chorus:]

And will you remember

The flowers in the fields?

And will you remember

The loss of one so dear

And will you remember

Through the mist of lies?

Remember

Their spirit never dies

Remember

Out of the skies, and into the green

Fuelled by the lies, paid by soul

Soldire, hero, well 'Uncle Sam'

He don't wanna know

[Chorus]
