God your face is so persuasive Lets just face this because I can barely even hold on never thought that I'd be here for long So baby why don't you live it up live it up live it up now slit your wrists baby maybe like your losing control live it up live it up another let down until you weep and see what I've been trying to get across to you Got the cold shoulder never meant to hold her as we got older realized all she ever did was lie to me I'll try to be the boy you wanted all along the one that wiped your eyes and told you you were perfect when you're not Live it up live it up live it up now slit your wrist baby maybe like you're losing control live it up live it up another let down until you weep and see what I've been trying to get across to you (until you weep and see and what I've been trying to get across to you) until you weep and see what I've been trying to get across to you Got the cold shoulder never meant to hold her as we
to be the boy you wanted all along the one that lied too you and told you you were perfect You're not perfect (you're not perfect) you're not worth it (you're not worth it) you're not perfect you know baby you're not worth it not at all.
Got the cold shoulder never meant to hold her as we
to be the boy you wanted all along the one that lied to
