Stretched arms fall short
Your weathered finger tips grasping my heart

False confidence or true insecurity, it all leads me
To believe in your self hatred
To believe your still half hearted
Let it all sink in into your skin
Let it all sink into your skin

I've ripped and torn down homes
The forests I've burned
We can't just lay down and die
You don't have the will Stretched arms fall short of grasping my heart

False confidence or true insecurity, it all leads me
To believe in your self hatred
To believe your still half hearted
Let it all sink in into your skin
Let it all sink in into your skin

(D?jame prender el fuego siente mi coraz?n piel contra piel siente el fuego dentro de mi)

The flames are climbing
They're wrapping around my skin
Feel my heat
My flesh burns
With what I desire
Her icy touch drives them back

False confidence or true insecurity, it all leads me
To believe in your self hatred
To believe your still half hearted
Let it all sink in into your skin
Let it all sink into your skin

We can all see the sweat
On your broken brow
Abrupt endings
Your nerves betray

You clearer doubts
We've never seen in the eyes of a beast the animal
Drive is gone the beast on our backs is dead and done

(Sensitividad es libre sabiendo de la vida a nuestro rededor siente todo deja todo qu? se unda en tu piel.)
