[Verse:]

How could we Know you
Would go through
Everything we thought we had learned for you

I know who
You should be
It reminds me of me

[Chorus:]

Another failure, What's left to say
Why would you care, it's not your price to pay
Someday
We pray
You'll see
We didn't spend this time so you could blow it

One more chance to see you through
We can't give up, there's so much left to do
For you
We knew
You'd see
We didn't spend this time so you could blow it

[Bridge]

Are you happy now
You've gotten everything you asked us for, we couldn't give you any more

Are you satisfied
Pretended not to care about yourself, but always asking for our help

Are you happy now
We listened to you lies, let you change our minds
We gave you so much time, you chose to run and hide
And now you've gone ahead and you've blown it
And after all this time we should have known it
