I've been saying your name in my sleep
The doctor says its perfectly normal
White coats and a padded room
Just an overdose or two
Every pill that I take is just a reminder of you
And oh, this medicinal kiss
Will keep you coming back for more

And ohh, this is where the chemicals set in
I'm feeling better than I've ever been

Somebody call the doctor
Tell him I've got other plans
Tonight we're dancing down the halls of the hospital
And oh oh oh, please don't ever let me go
Hospital beds are strictly for the comatose

These are just the symptoms of a serious disease
It's like a cancer, there's no answer
Nor the means to put me at ease
And oh this medicinal kiss
Will keep you coming back for more

And ohhh, this is where the chemicals set in
I'm feeling better than I've ever been
(Though it might be the medication talking)

Somebody call the doctor
Tell him I've got other plans
Tonight we're dancing down the halls of the hospital
And oh oh oh, please don't ever let me go
Hospital beds are strictly for the comatose
