Outside it's raining as the storm descends
And I plan on staying 'til we can lose all of our friends
And slip away
Unnoticed out the back door
So lets go - you know it's the exit we've been waiting for

Now we can't stop
And I think I like it (like it)
We could take it all off
And I don't want to fight it (fight it)
Because you know we can't stop
Even if we wanted (wanted)
We could take it all off
And finish what we started - started on your balcony

We've made excuses for the last two weeks
But we'll leave those at the bar with our unattended drinks
And slip away
Determined to lose them all
And Get home, alone - minutes before our curtain call

Now we can't stop
And I think I like it (like it)
We could take it all off
And I don't want to fight it (fight it)
Because you know we can't stop
Even if we wanted (wanted)
We could take it all off
And finish what we started - started on your balcony
Another helpless moment
It's all I have just to breathe again

Now we can't stop...
