I count the seconds
While I start to write
And move my pencil as a knife
To cut oceans of word,
So forty notes on my skin
If only I could steal it to kill the distance and make you
Happy with my sweetness and no less

Take me in a movie, when the chocolate ends
Damn the chocolate ends, I miss the breath
In my heart I miss you terribly tonight
Can you leave me here? I miss the breath

I miss the breath
I'm born to drive you to be loved from me (and once Again I'm falling down)
It's hard to say it's hard to play we keep on lying on this game oh no!
So he still waiting for your call
But he still bleeding on your phone, for you!

Take me in a movie, when the chocolate ends!
Damn the chocolate ends, I miss the breath!
In my heart I miss you terribly tonight!
Can you leave me here? I miss the breath!

L'll do
I will build you a great castle
I will challenge kings in battle
I can't find the words so special
To explain what I feel just for you

Take me in a movie, when the chocolate ends (take me in a movie, hug me, I'm not superman)
Damn the chocolate ends, I miss the breath
In my heart I miss you terribly tonight
Can you leave me here? I miss the breath (for everything I choose to wait for every sugar's kiss I miss the breath)
